CHURCH: INSIDE OUT?

PIONEER CONVERSATIONS DAY | 4 MARCH 2019

THE DAY

Within pioneering and Fresh Expressions questions about church and mission abound. Is this church? When does this become church? Can we have church-free Christianity? Who decides what is church?

CMS conversations days bring together theologians, writers, practitioners and pioneers to explore themes and start a conversation.

MAIN SPEAKERS

Stefan Paas – Professor of Missiology at the Theologische Universiteit, Kampen, Netherlands

Stefan has researched themes of church planting, innovation and missional communities all within the context of a secularised western culture. He is currently working on his next book, Pilgrims and Priests: Christian mission in a post-Christian culture, coming out in 2019.

Clare Watkins – Reader in Practical Theology and Ecclesiology at the University of Roehampton, London

Clare is a Roman Catholic lay theologian, committed to teaching and research in the areas of ecclesiology, sacramental theology and practical theology. She has a particular concern for working in ways that contribute to ministerial formation and church life and mission.

WORKSHOPS AND PANEL DISCUSSION

Alongside the main speakers there are workshops exploring themes such as liquid ecclesiology, invisible church, fresh expressions, forming church, the sacraments and more.

-  Pete Ward – Liquid Ecclesiology
-  Nigel Rooms – Mission, Ecclesiology and the Sacraments
-  Christine Dutton – Ecclesiology and Fresh Expressions
-  Nicky Pybus – Church-free Christianity in practice
-  Sue Steer – Questions around church, when to have that conversation and what it looks like in both a ‘new town’ context and in an ecumenical context

Location:

Church Mission Society,
Watlington Road,
Oxford, OX4 6BZ
